CASH ACCUMULATION.....$2,500,000

This is the oldest wholly Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States, having been organized in 1843, and has been uniformly successful, having always made large returns in cash dividends to all the policy holders. Last cash dividend, 39 per cent.

It is strictly a benevolent institution for mutual protection, and entirely beneficent in all its workings and tendencies.

By the last report of the Insurance Commissioners, the surplus of assets over liabilities was $950,000, being proportionately greater than any Life Insurance Company in the United States. Expenses proportionately "less" than any other Company.

This company, being purely mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates; and if the premiums paid exceed the actual cost, the surplus is returned to the parties insuring.

Every fifth year, at the time of declaring the dividends, the business is, as it were, closed, so that its actual position and solvency are made manifest at that time; and the surplus funds are divided pro rata among all the insured. This guards the assured against any possible loss from inefficiency on the part of the Company, and is a sure guaranty as regards the future.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women, beyond the reach of their husbands' creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Printed documents of an interesting character, showing the benefits of the mutual plan and the advantages generally of life insurance, supplied gratis, or forwarded free of expense, by addressing

JOHN HOPPER, Agent for the Co.,

METROPOLITAN BANK BUILDING,

110 Broadway, cor. of Pine st., N. Y. City.

Parties at a distance may insure from blanks, which will be supplied and forwarded free of expense.

NEWARK

FOR

1863-4.

TWENTY-NINTH VOLUME.

OBITUARY.

BENJAMIN THOMPSON PIERSON, a son of David Pierson and Abigail Thompson, was born in the township of Morris, Morris County, N. J., Sept. 21, 1793. He was a descendant of the Rev. Abraham Pierson, sometimes called the founder of Newark, who, with many of the church and people of Branford, in 1667 left Connecticut and united with friends from Milford and New Haven "to be of one heart and hand in endeavoring to carry on their spiritual concernments as well as town affairs, according to God and godly government," in the new settlement on Passaic river, commenced in 1666, purchased by them from the Indians by advice of the English Proprietors' Governor.

Benjamin Pierson, a grandson of Thomas, one of the four sons of Rev. Abraham, with several of his townsmen, sought a home in the West, beyond the mountains, and was one of the early settlers of Morris County. There, the Piersons, Cranes, Kitchells, Baldwins, Bruens, Tomkins, and others, subdued the earth, increased and multiplied. Many of their sons and daughters, having turned their faces toward their ancestral home-lots, are now found among the thousands of our beautiful city—some of whom forget the men of the olden time, to whose taste and judgment all will ever be indebted for the broad avenues and spacious parks of Newark.

During his minority, Mr. Pierson was engaged chiefly on the farm of his father in agricultural pursuits. In the winter season his time was occupied in obtaining as much of useful knowledge as with diligence, and an aptness to learn, he could secure in a country school. He grew in stature until, at the age of eighteen, ambitious to take the lead in the fields with the scythe or cradle, and striving to excel, hemorrhage ensued, health and strength failed, and enfeebled and with a pulmonary affection, he was compelled to seek other and less laborious employment.

In 1828 he was married to Mrs. Paulina Gale. For a season he was the host of those who for health or pleasure frequented the mineral spring gushing from the hill-side on the old homestead. In 1850 he removed to Newark, and when the terminus of the New Jersey Railroad was at the Eagle Hotel in Broad street, he was always happy to accommodate the traveller with a ticket, or to direct him in the right path.

In the first edition of the Directory, a volume of 125 pages, containing the names of about 3300 inhabitants and 18 churches, in a copy from his own library we find, "B. T. Pierson, accountant, 350 Broad street," and from a note in his own hand it appears that he was engaged four and one half months upon that work; "Published for the Compiler at the office of the Newark Daily Advertiser, 1835." The copy-right of the Directory for 1836-7 was secured by him, as the author, Dec. 19, 1835, and it came forth in the 170th year of the town and the first year of the city, containing the names of near 7,000 of its 19,732 inhabitants, the names of the officers of the city government, a new map of the city as then divided into four wards, and a historical sketch. A part of this sketch was reprinted in Barber and Howe's Historical Collections. The name of the writer is unknown. It was prepared for the first edition, and it contains a few errors, but for these Mr. Pierson could not properly be held responsible. Enlarged and improved by his devotion to the work for 28 years, Pierson's Directory has been an indispensable reference book, and in future years these volumes will be of no little value to the student of the past.

Frugal, and temperate in his habits, the profits of the work sufficed for the supply of his necessities. He was a quiet, unassuming citizen, honest, always obeying the call of the church-going bell, a true Union man, always for the Union, but not with Jefferson Davis for its President. His familiar countenance is admirably preserved in the wood-cut which since 1848 has accompanied every copy of his work. He died of consumption, on June 19, 1862, in his 69th year. His grave, with those of his companion and their two and only children, is in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian Church, adjacent to the premises allotted by the town to his English ancestor, in 1667, and in the centre of the city whose busy population he so constantly watched, carefully to register the name, residence and occupation of every one within his power, or who responded to his call. These may forget him, but the traveller wandering over the old world in search of wonders, when he finds the greatest wonder of all, his own name, registered and made immortal in Pierson's Directory, and deposited among the treasures in the British Museum, as he looks upon the face of its compiler, and this new evidence of his friendship and faithfulness, HE will remember "Tompey."

A WORD TO OUR PATRONS.

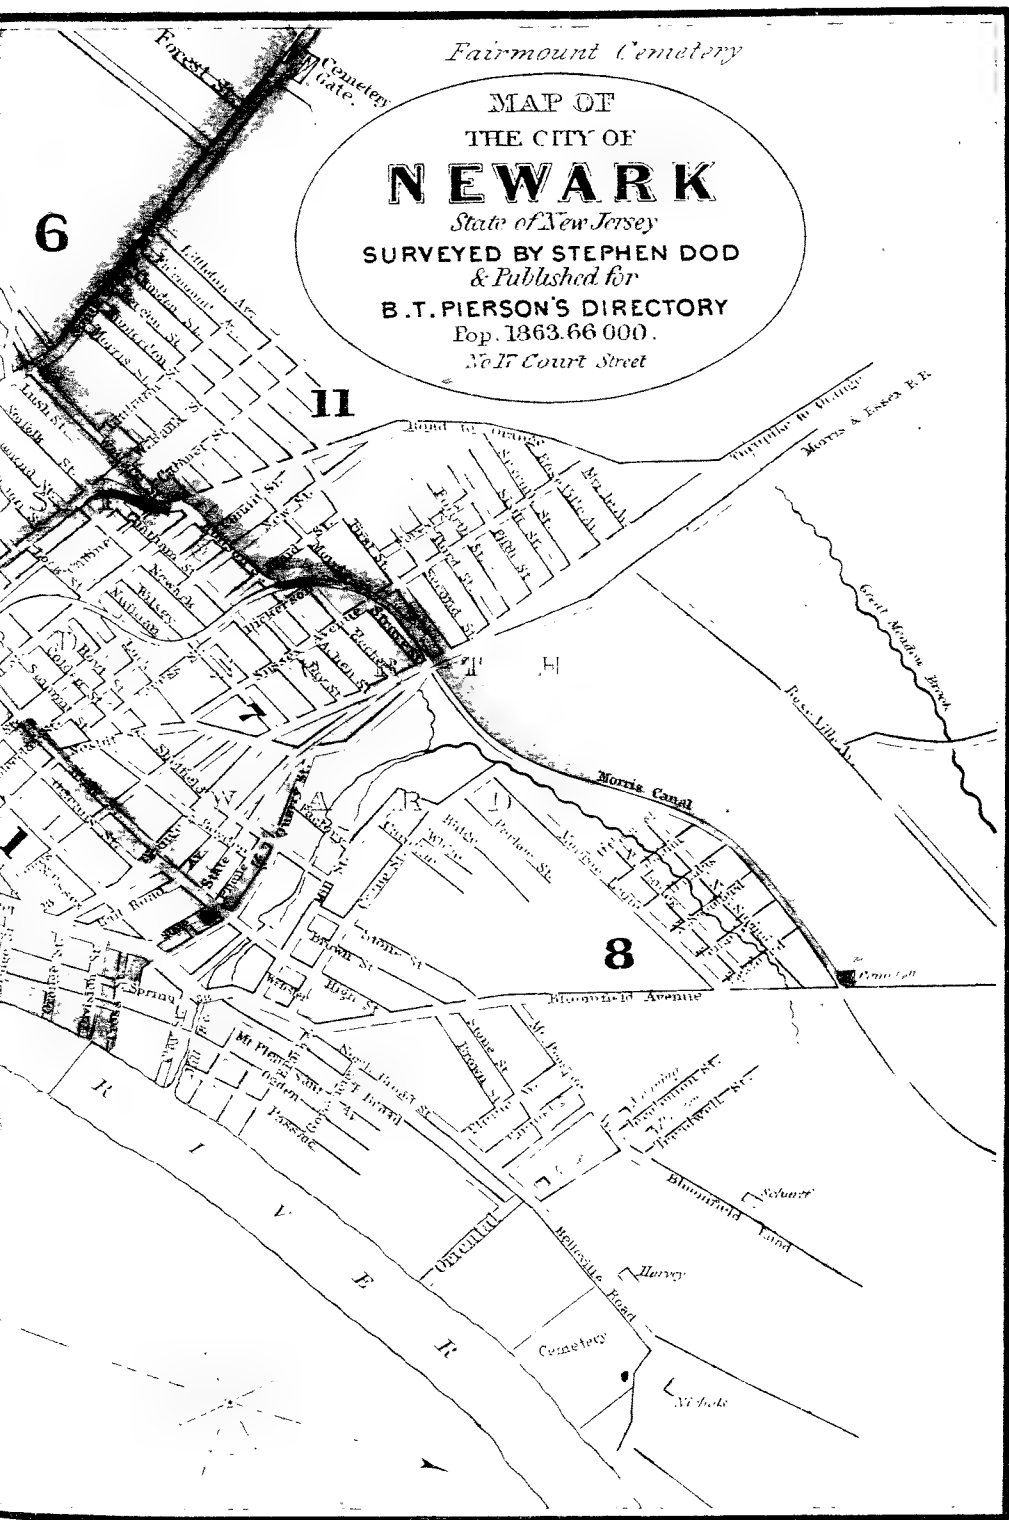

In presenting to the public the DIRECTORY of the City of Newark for 1863-4, the new proprietor feels that a few introductory remarks are demanded, setting forth the nature of the work and the difficulties that have interposed to its successful preparation, and also alluding to his plans for its future improvement.

The cardinal requisites of a work of this nature are fullness and accuracy; and a Directory will be valuable in the proportion these are attained. To ensure that the name and residence of each citizen should be correctly given no effort has been spared; and as, from the nature of the case, it was impossible that the whole labor should be performed by himself, the publisher had recourse to the assistance of canvassers of thorough reliability on the score of respectability and character, who have acted, under his direct supervision, in conformity with the system practised by the late publisher, which must have resulted in an accurate list of the householders of our city, their abodes and places of business, if the responses to their faithful inquiries had been truly made. In addition, however, to the prejudice which, at all times, indisposes the ignorant to supply the full and precise information necessary to the completeness of a Directory, new causes—such as the fear of the prospective draft and the apprehension of exposure to taxation—have conspired at this particular time to increase this difficulty beyond any former experience. And, although every exertion has been made to remedy the defects growing out of these causes, the compiler of the Directory is conscious that in some instances names have probably been withheld and in others fictitious ones may have been returned. To this extent, therefore, absolute accuracy has been beyond his control; and he trusts that he will be absolved from the responsibility for any imperfections that may be traceable to this head.

Another obstacle in the way of perfect correctness has been the disgracefully defective condition of the names and numbers of the streets of the city. The irregularity in this respect is so great as to have produced serious embarrassment and defy the most perfectly devised system—streets of the same name existing in different and distant parts of the city, and it being no infrequent occurrence to find the same numbers repeated several times in the same street. Of course this has been a difficulty entirely beyond the control of those engaged in gathering the materials for the Directory. Nevertheless, no time nor effort have been spared to reconcile these discrepancies as far as possible and make the work alike intelligible to casual visitors and citizens. The matter, however, is deserving of the attention of our municipal authorities; and the publisher ventures to express the hope that his suggestion of a reform, in this respect, will not be disregarded by them.

With these unavoidable imperfections, which have been narrowed down to the smallest possible limit by unremitting care and attention, it is believed that the Directory for the present year will compare favorably with any of its predecessors, and be found to be, what its name purports, a faithful presentment of the names of the citizens of Newark and guide to their abodes and places of business. Besides, much additional useful matter—relating to the city, the State, the General Government, public institutions, secret and charitable societies, &c.—has been introduced; and a “Business Mirror” appended—containing advertisements of many of our leading business men, together with a condensed list of the principal trades and professions, compiled from the body of the work, and intended to be considered as such only, rather than a complete business directory, which would require a volume in itself—which will recommend it to general favor as a constantly needed and serviceable book of reference for every family. Not content, however, with resting upon the accomplishment of the past, the publisher has already projected plans by which the work will be still more perfected in the future. Necessarily the consummation of these plans will depend greatly upon the measure of support which is extended to the present volume, the outlay for which has been very heavy. The public are confidently appealed to for a degree of patronage sufficiently generous to compensate for past labor and expenditure and to incite to renewed and extended exertions in the future.

The indispensableness of a City Directory to all classes of our citizens, in point of convenience and practical benefits, is so obvious and generally conceded that it does not require to be dwelt upon; and it is believed few will be found in this enterprising and intelligent community who could be persuaded to dispense with it; while to men of business of all classes—manufacturers, mechanics, merchants, banks, hotels, &c.—it is so perpetual and convenient an advertisement, and affords facilities so indisputable for directing inquirers to them, that it should meet their special favor and encouragement. Trusting it may meet this favor from the public at large, the volume is submitted for their decision as to its merits; and the hope is entertained that it may successfully pass the daily and hourly practical ordeal to which it will so soon be subjected.

* * Since printing the matters of information contained in the work, changes have been made in officials, locations, &c., which are corrected elsewhere; owing to the disarrangement of our plans, we are compelled to insert some names in an appendix which should properly appear in the regular lists.

POPULATION OF NEWARK.

The following table shows the annual increase of our population from the year 1826—when it was but 8,017—up to the present time. Since the breaking out of the rebellion our numbers have materially diminished, owing to the scarcity of employment and the large quota contributed to the Army. Notwithstanding these serious drawbacks, however, we now rank the Tenth City in the Union, with an estimated population of 68,000:

1826.....	8,017	1847.....	28,000
1830.....	10,995	1848.....	30,000

Amount of Assets January 1, 1863.....	$331,854 17

The Company have declared their usual annual dividend of 50 per cent., in Scrip, and a CASH dividend of 8 per cent. on scrip, previously issued, free from Government tax.

On presenting their Seventeenth Annual Report, the Company would call attention to their plan of doing business, it being unlike most other Mutual Companies. They have no stockholders to receive a part of the profits; the insured are the stockholders, and the profits all belong to them, while they assume no responsibility.

The Legislature having removed the limitation to their charter, making it perpetual, the Company are prepared to give policies on the perpetual plan by the payment of a deposit—a new feature in the Insurance business in this city, but one which has for many years been in successful operation in other places. It will be found a great convenience to the insured, but more especially to Public Institutions, and others lending money, where a policy of insurance is considered a part of the security, avoiding the risk of a failure to renew a policy.

THE ORIGINAL NEWARK KINDLING WOOD CO.,

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

Having the right to use J. A. Conover's Splitting Machine, and having erected New Machinery at the Factory on the yard of Messrs. Powles & Smith,

No. 59 River Street,

(Fourth Dock below the Centre Street Depot.)

Will be prepared to furnish the citizens of Newark with a more constant supply of

KINDLING WOOD,

Sawed and split by Steam Power in a much more convenient and economical shape for kindling and stove use; thus saving them the trouble and inconvenience of having their Wood sawed and split on the sidewalk, and at a price fifteen to twenty per cent. cheaper than in the usual way.

The KINDLING WOOD is sawed from 6 to 7 inches in length, and is split $\frac{3}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch in thickness.

Also Hickory, Hard (Oak and Maple) and Pine Wood cut one, two, three or more cuts for air-tight stoves and split, when required.

DEALERS IN FIRST-CLASS

HICKORY, OAK, MAPLE AND PINE WOOD,

FULL LENGTH, AT MARKET PRICE.

The Proprietors avail themselves of this opportunity of tendering their sincere thanks for past favors, and respectfully solicit a continuance of the same, which will be promptly attended to.

 Orders for WOOD AND COAL may be left at the Factory, or at their Office,

No. 249 Broad Street,

(Mr. REMER'S Grocery Store, corner of Commerce street and opposite the Post Office.)

By resolution of the Board of Managers, the prices of family burial lots, containing between three and four hundred square feet, have advanced in price since the first of April, and for those persons of limited means desirous of securing a lot at once, and who cannot pay the whole amount in cash, an easy mode of payment has been adopted to accommodate such cases.

By the terms of the charter, there is secured to every lot owner an equal proprietary right in the ownership and government of the Cemetery.

Application for burial lots or individual interments may be made to Edward Ingleton, the General Superintendent, at the office of the Cemetery,

40 PER CENT. PAID TO ALL INSURED.

This Company, established in Boston, Mass, in 1843, is the oldest and most reliable wholly Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States, and has been uniformly successful, having always made large returns in cash to all the Policy holders. Last cash return, just declared and now being paid, 40 per cent., amounting to $750,000, and leaving a large surplus besides.

It is strictly a benevolent institution for mutual protection; entirely beneficent in all its workings and tendencies, and is an excellent form of investment.

By the last report of the Insurance Commissioners, the surplus of Assets over liabilities was proportionately greater than any Life Insurance Company in the United States. Expenses proportionately "less" than any other Company.

This Company, being purely mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates; and if the premiums paid exceed the actual cost, the surplus is returned to the parties insuring.

Every fifth year, at the time of declaring the return to members, the business is, as it were, closed, so that its actual position and solvency are made manifest at that time, and the surplus funds are divided pro rata among all the insured. This guards the assured against any possible loss from inefficiency on the part of the Company, and is a sure guarantee as regards the future.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women, beyond the reach of their husbands' creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Parties at a distance may insure from blanks, which will be supplied and forwarded free of expense.

Printed documents of an interesting character, showing the benefits of the Mutual plan, and the advantages generally of Life Insurance that this Company has to offer, supplied gratis, or forwarded free of expense, by addressing
